Course Description

Principles of Microeconomics provides strong explanations for observed prices and quantities that you see in everyday life, and gives insights as to the tradeoffs people face when making decisions. In this class we will discuss many topics, including comparative advantage, supply and demand, taxes and subsidies, profits and costs, firm and industry structure, competition, government behavior in markets.

Course Textbook

David Shapiro, Daniel MacDonald, and Steven A. Greenlaw. Principles of Microeconomics 3e (2022)

Course Goals

- The overall objective of this course is for you to learn basic economic concepts and more about the economic system in which we live. To this end, upon completion of the course a student will be able to:
 1. describe basic economic concepts such as scarcity and opportunity costs (LG4, LG8)
 2. summarize in writing the key microeconomic concepts contained in an article from a business periodical, e.g., the Wall Street Journal (LG1),
 3. demonstrate a basic knowledge of microeconomics including concepts such as utility maximization, elasticity costs, market structure and labor markets (LG4, LG8),
 4. demonstrate a basic knowledge of international economics including concepts such as comparative advantage, specialization and gains to trade (LG4, LG5, LG8, LG9),
 5. recognize ethical and economic dimensions of government involvement in markets including regulation and the provision of public goods (LG5, LG8), and
 6. analyze current events using economic models such as supply and demand (LG4, LG8)
 - Critical Thinking Overlay: This class involves critical thinking and is designed to satisfy the Critical Thinking overlay component of the UWG core curriculum, as follows: “Students will demonstrate the ability to interpret, analyze, evaluate and explain various kinds of evidence, statements, and arguments.” For this class, students will be required to evaluate firm production decisions, consumer choices, market interventions, specialization, and market structures. Student evaluation on both exams and homework assignments will consist of problems designed to assess student ability to recognize and compare/contrast different economic decisions.
 - Note: A complete list of expected learning goals (LG) for the Economics Department can be found at the department web site http://www.westga.edu/econ/index_12904.php

Electronic Devices

- Students may use professor-approved electronic devices, such as laptops and tablets, to aid in note-taking
 - Phones (and headphones!) are not permitted for this purpose
 - Students who need to text or make a call should step outside the classroom
 - Any student whose device disrupts their peers will be held accountable, with the form of compensation determined by the professor in consultation with the class (often cookies)
- Lecture slides will be provided to students in advance, and in return, students are asked not to record or photograph during lectures
- Failure to follow these rules, including repeated warnings, may result in course failure and expulsion

Expectation of Course Attendance

- Students are expected to attend class regularly, remain actively engaged, take notes, and participate in collaborative discussions with their peers
 - The grading system is intentionally structured to discourage extended periods of unexcused absences
- Absences will only be excused with appropriate documentation from a medical professional or a relevant UWG employee

Grading

- Quizzes: There will be 25 quizzes administered throughout the term, each worth 1.25 points
 - Of these, 5 quizzes (6.25 points) are provided as bonus opportunities, allowing students to earn extra credit
 - In return, the quiz score is adjusted based on attendance

Let n represent the number of consecutive unexcused absences; n resets upon a student's return to class.

$$Quizzes = \begin{cases} 1.25 \times \sum_{q=1}^{25} Quiz_q & \text{if } n = 0, \\ \left(1.25 \times \sum_{q=1}^{25} Quiz_q \right) - \sum \left(\frac{4^n}{25} + \dots \right) & \text{if } n > 0, \end{cases}$$ where $0 \leq Quizzes \leq 31.25$

- Exams: There will be 4 exams and a comprehensive final, each worth 15 points
 - The final exam is mandatory; failure to complete it results in an automatic course failure
 - If $Final > 0.6$, it may replace your lowest midterm score if it is higher; otherwise, it counts as any other exam

$$Exams = \begin{cases} 15 \times \sum_{e=1}^5 Exam_e & \text{if } Final \leq 0.6, \\ 15 \times \left(\sum_{e=1}^4 Exam_e - \min(Exam_e) \right) + 30 \times Final & \text{if } Final > 0.6. \end{cases}$$

- The overall grade is computed as:

$$Overall\ Grade = Exams + Quizzes$$

- At the professor's discretion, final grades may be scaled up only if the course mean falls below 85

Evaluation Policies

- Quizzes
 - Closed-book; administered via scantron in-person during class time
 - Students will be allowed access to no other materials aside from pencils and rubber erasers without prior approval from the professor
 - Cover material from the previous lecture
 - Consist of 5 multiple choice questions and must be completed within 15 minutes
 - Students may elect to work alone or in groups (of no more than 5) that are selected randomly by the professor
 - There will be no make-ups for missed quizzes
 - Missed quizzes that occur due to excused absences will be replaced with the average of remaining quiz scores
 - Blatantly tardy students will receive a grade of zero
- Exams
 - Closed-book; administered via scantron in-person during class time
 - Students will be allowed access to no other materials aside from pencils and rubber erasers without prior approval from the professor
 - Requests for early access to exams will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis
